Its purity and excellence have led readers Baker's Cocoa the standard, and after more than a century's test, it still remains unsurpassed.

—Mr. Fred Crouse, of this city, has accepted the position of head clerk in the drug store of F. S. Fenton, of Detroit, and went down to the Line City on Saturday evening to commence business. Fred is a popular young man, attends to his business, and knows what he is about in handling the blue bottles. His many friends will wish him continued success.

—To-morrow evening, at the opera house, our theatre-goers will be given another opportunity to see a representation of Uncle Tom's Cabin. The company is said to be a good one, and is to be endorsed by the Aurora Beacon. "Ma-sa" and Morgan's mammoth Uncle Tom's Cabin appeared at the opera house last night to a packed house. The piece was well presented, and the various characters were good, and the transformation "Beautiful Gates Ajar" was the most beautiful scene ever presented here. The house was filled to overflowing at the matinee; the largest audience ever assembled here. The company is made up of ladies and gentlemen, and we hope for them a crowded house should they ever return here again.

—We can hardly understand why the Gazette should take exception to a friendly proposition on the part of "Another Democrat" to place a conserved soldier in one of the city offices. We had heretofore labored under the impression that all exponents of republican principles were partial to the soldiers, but we may have been mistaken—Sunday's Gazette.

There you go again. The Gazette does not take exception to a friendly proposition to place a conserved soldier in one of the city offices. It simply intimated that "Another Democrat," the correspondent of the Recorder, possessed the check of a government mail, when he proposed to give something he did not possess, in the hope that his party might retain that which they so cunningly captured one year ago. The Republicans, and the Gazette, are always willing to place soldiers in the "front," but when the proposition is made for the sole purpose, as it was last spring, to divide the republican party, in order that the "straight out democrats" can march in with a "double-quick" step, we firmly object. If "Another Democrat" is so anxious to show his love for the maimed soldier, let him make the offer of that which his party has to give, and not take the plums from the republican tree. No. Mr. Recorder, we as republicans, are partial to the soldiers, and everything being equal, we will give the soldiers our preference every time, but not when it is for the purpose of putting into office a straight out democrat, regardless of his qualifications. Oh, no.

—We started out this morning to compile a complete list of candidates for aldermen in the several wards, but after spending a couple of hours, gave it up as a bad job. The fact is, no one is really anxious to serve in the board of aldermen on the republican side of the house, and the same may be truly said of the opposite party. In the first ward the only name we heard formally mentioned was that of the present incumbent, Mr. C. A. Potter, and we learn from him that he is not anxious for the position, although it elected would serve. All other persons heretofore spoken of as candidates have peremptorily declined to allow their names to be used. In the second ward there are no regular candidates and the caucus will have to call the man out, as there are several good names mentioned for the honor, but none who are anxious for the nomination. Among the prominent names spoken of are: ex-Alderman O. P. Nowlan, John Thoroughgood, Harry Merrill, Henry Rogers, John Stanton, Alfred Dewey, and Jesse Miles.

In the third ward we hear the names of C. B. Conrad, and Uncle Thomas Leppin prominently spoken of. The fourth warders are at sea. Mr. Charles Atwood refuses to allow his name to be used, and we hear the name of S. Norris, A. G. Anderson, and S. C. Cobb mentioned in connection with the aldermanic office. In the fifth ward the republicans will probably make little effort, as the majority in that ward is too great to overcome, and they will probably allow the democrats to fight it out among themselves. The caucus in the several wards on Thursday night may bring out new men in all the wards. Therefore there should be general attendance of republicans, see that good men are nominated, and then their election is sure to follow.

GONE TO REST.

CATHARINE ROCK ROCKWOOD.

Mrs. Catharine R. Rockwood, wife of Mr. S. M. Rockwood, died at the family home on Pleasant street at three o'clock this morning, at the age of 74. For many years Mrs. Rockwood had been an invalid, a complication of ailments having long ago not only kept her in-doors but making her an intense sufferer. But with the coming and the going of those many years of pain and sickness, there were Christian patience, a commanding womanly courage, and a splendid resignation to the distressing circumstances of her later life; and when death came it came not with a ruthless hand, but as an angel of mercy.

Mrs. Rockwood was born on the 11th of April, 1811, at East Chatham, Massachusetts, New York. She was married in 1830 to Mr. Rockwood, and came west and settled in Lafayette, Walworth county, in 1841. In 1854 the family moved to Magnolia, in this county, and nineteen years ago the spring came to this city, and have lived here ever since.

Mrs. Rockwood was the mother of twelve children, nine of whom and her husband, survive her. The children living are Major S. S. Rockwood, formerly of the Recorder, and now of the State Register, Portage; Baldwin, Eugene and Lotta Rockwood, of this city; Mrs. Julia R. Moore, of St. Paul; Mrs. Josie Sand-lam, of Kelley, Iowa; Edward B. Rockwood, of the San Francisco custom house; William Rockwood, of Cotton Wood Falls, Kansas, and Mrs. Kate R. Twining, of Monroe. The deceased was a second cousin to George F. Rock, the well-known composer, of Chicago, and was also a relative of Mrs. Cady Stanton, the accomplished orator and widely known reformer.

The funeral services will be held at the family residence on Pleasant street, on Wednesday, at two o'clock, April 1. The Rev. Dr. Hodge will officiate.

SHOPIERS METHODISTS.

History of the Church in that Thirty-ing Village.

A reunion held in the M. E. church, Shopiere, Wis., March 25th, being the 30th anniversary of the organization of the M. E. church in that village. The people met in large numbers, in the morning, bringing dinner and tea, and remained at church all day. Sermons and addresses were delivered during the day. The following clergymen were present, and took part in services: Rev. Dr. W. F. Stone, of Chicago; Rev. A. P. Mead, of Appleton; P. W. Peterson, of Footville; D. O. Jones, of Oshkosh; W. J. Wilson, of Oshkosh; W. J. Wilson, of Lowell, P. S. Bennett, of Union Grove, B. F. Sanford, of Clinton. The opening address was delivered by the pastor, Rev. N. J. Apple.

The report of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society was read by Mrs. R. Kenyon.

The report of the Ladies Aid society was read by Mrs. Chamberlain.

The meeting was in charge of Mr. W. H. Howard, of La Prairie, who acted as chairman during the entire day.

This was a grand day for the M. E. church, of Shopiere. The choir rendered fine music.

History of the Church read by Mrs. Smith, as follows:

There was a time when all the people of Shopiere and vicinity who were religiously inclined met together in perfect harmony for divine worship. This period was limited, for as soon as the pews of this only church in the place were rented, a few persons withdrew their attendance and support. These had become accustomed to the observance of the Sabbath, and could not long be content without religious service. In the course of a few months preliminary arrangements were made for a meeting and in March 1855, Rev. John Chamberlain, a local preacher from Beloit, delivered a sermon in Shopiere. At the close of his discourse he requested all the Methodists present to come forward that he might speak with them. Miss Peck was the only one who responded to his invitation. But a little later, a class was formed and the Rev. J. Chamberlain was W. H. Prink conducted well attended meetings for more than two years on Sabbath afternoons of alternate weeks, a feeling of independence was aroused and they determined to have a house of their own very soon. A subscription paper was circulated and the amount raised with which to build a comfortable frame building 30x40 in the lot given by Wm. Frood, of Beloit. The building was laid and the first cost was about 1,200 dollars. The church was completed and the dedication occurred July 6, 1857. The first sermon in the new church was preached by Rev. Mr. Mason, of Whitewater. At this time there were not more than fifteen members and several of these came from other churches of neighboring towns. They were further Eikenback and wife, John Kemmerer and wife, John Price and Mary Peck. The first settled pastor, the Rev. B. D. Grandall, organized a Sabbath school, conducted a great revival and did much other work essential to the church. January, 1858, many joined the church on probation and several by letter, so that in October, 1859, the membership was 72.

The parsonage was built and the family of H. B. Grandall was the first to occupy it, other pastors in order were William Averill, Thomas Wilcox, S. S. Lang, George Chester. It may be worth mentioning that George Chester was the only pastor ever removed by death in this place. Rev. T. P. Allen was the next to come and during the winter of his second year assisted in a very successful revival and many more were added to the membership of the church. The next pastors were H. H. Stinchfield, A. H. Aokins, J. E. Allen, D. O. Jones.

Under the supervision of the last named, the church was re-modeled in 1871. The old building was moved a few rods towards the north upon a basement, and an addition of twenty feet was made on the length of the structure, the interior was fitted, and the whole cost nearly equal to the original one. The second dedication services were by Rev. Samuel Fellows and Rev. S. H. Couch. The following winter the church was crowded by people from far and near, during the revival by Mrs. Maggie Van Cott. Nothing of particular note occurred under the pastorate of D. Brown, A. Porter, W. H. Window, and Thomas Potter.

In April, 1885, while W. J. Wilson was pastor, the church property was damaged by the cyclone and immediately repaired at a cost of $300. Since that time, the work has continued under the leadership of G. E. Fellows John Varty and N. J. Apple, making in all nineteen pastors in thirty years.

At one time when meetings were held in Rock River school house in connection with those of the village, the number of members was 131, but since then death and removals have lessened the number. During the protracted efforts of J. Varty and E. H. Hegward, in Feb. 1884, many were converted and united with the church. The present membership is 80. The spring and summer of 1884 Rev. J. Varty was unable to attend to his pastoral duties on account of ill health, and for several months the pulpit was filled by preachers from other charges in the district. During the summer the edifice was again enlarged and re-furnished to the amount of $400. It would not be possible to tell of all the good done through members, but it may be of use to place to mention the names of E. C. Cook, G. S. Hubbs and D. E. Farnham, as persons who commenced a Christian life in Shopiere and have gone forth to preach the gospel. As we look over this congregation to-day, as we note the comfort and beauty in this our Sabbath home, and contrast it with early days, we are reminded that God has indeed been very good to his people. Let us praise his name together. We see hereto-day, dear pastors of early years—those that have shared with us in our joys and sorrows; we are glad to meet again; many of us have the infirmities of age, and yet joyful that these thirty years of service for the Master will bring a sure reward. Let us who are permitted to enjoy this pleasant reunion of dear Christian friends, rejoice and be glad; and let us pledge ourselves to faithfulness and fidelity in his service.

Prentice & Evenson will refund the price paid if Acher's Blood Elixir does not relieve any skin or blood disorder. A new, but thoroughly tested discovery.

Does Advertising Pay?

The above question was asked by a little dried up specimen of a business man as he stood with one foot on a cod fish box in the store familiarly known as 16 and 18 River street, and peered over the shoulder of the wide awake proprietor of that popular resort, while the latter was busily engaged in opening his morning mail. For an answer to the question the O. O. D. man handed the enquirer a letter and said, "Read that, and then come in and talk to me when I ain't so busy".

The man in search of information slowly opened the letter which read as follows:

Innocent, Dakota, March 25th, 1885.

My R. S. J. Winston, Janesville, Wis.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed find a draft for $35 for which please send me groceries as marked on the enclosed list, and oblige.

Yours respectfully,

JAMES WYNET.

The list referred to was clipped from the Gazette and was Mr. Winslow's price current published a few weeks ago in connection with the county's price list. Handing the letter back to Mr. Winslow the man of skeptical notions in regard to advertising said, "That's very good, do you get many such orders?"

"Well," was replied, "yesterday we put up $57.00 worth of goods for another party in the same neighborhood and we expect half a dozen more orders within a week. Of course it pays to advertise, and the Gazette is a first class medium for Janesville merchants."

"Why, three weeks ago I opened 25 dozen baking powder of a new brand called the Hatchet, as the result of one little twenty-five line notice in the Gazette; I sold the entire outfit in less than a week. You can't find a man in the county who don't know where 16 and 18 River street is located. I never found any better way to sell goods than to let people know that I had goods to sell. Come in to-morrow and see my orders from the west."

Person at the Front Door.

No article entering so generally into the food of every family has been found more villainously adulterated than baking powder. For the purpose of underselling those powders of absolute purity and wholesomeness which alone are safe for use in food, hundreds of dealers are putting up baking powders with cheap and adulterated cream of tartar, which contains lime, earth, etc., adding strength by the free use of alum.

The adulterated powders are "shoved" upon the public with the greatest persistency. They are first given away—left in samples at private residences, with circulars containing bogus analyses and certificates, and false representations as to their value, etc. This kind of bait is sufficient to lure the consumer. A first class article will sell on its merits. No manufacturer whose goods are of value can afford to give them away, and none but the cheapest make and most inferior or unmarketable goods require to be distributed free in order to get the public to use them, and this method is adopted only by parties who have failed to dispose of their wares through the ordinary and legitimate channels of trade.

Free samples of articles of food left at the house should be regarded with suspicion. There is no guarantee of their wholesomeness, while there is real danger that they contain a fully poisonous compound. Many instances of poisoning from the use of such samples are recorded.

The only safe way is to consign all such samples immediately to the ash barrel, and to turn a deaf ear to the statements made by their vendors. It is not worth while to trifle with life and health to the extent of testing every doubtful baking powder that comes along. Better to rely upon an old and reliable brand, like the Royal, which has by a quarter of a century's constant use proved its perfect purity and wholesomeness, or some other brand that is not so worthless and cheap that its proprietors can afford to give it away by the cart-load. It is in its favor that the Royal Baking Powder is never given away, sold by means of circulars, nor accompanied by chromos, spoons, crockery, or other gifts, except the gifts of absolute purity, wholesomeness, full weight, and superlative leavening power. Its own merits have been its chief advertisement, and they have secured for it the constant patronage of the American people to an extent beyond the combined sale of all other baking powders. The Royal Baking Powder is certified by all the government chemists as absolutely pure and perfect.
